

D&J Mechanical, LLC Now Serves Brownville and LaGrange, Maine with Heat Pump Installation Services

Heat pump installer specialist D&J Mechanical, LLC brings trusted installation services and expertise to Brownville and LaGrange, Maine.

LAGRANGE, MAINE, UNITED STATES, November 1, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today HVAC company D&J Mechanical, LLC announced the expansion of its heat pump installation services to the communities of Brownville and LaGrange, Maine. With the addition of Brownville and LaGrange, the expert heat pump installer now serves eight towns in Piscataquis County, six towns in Penobscot County, and two towns in Somerset County.

The upper and central regions of Maine get very cold over the winter, including Brownville, LaGrange, and the surrounding countryside. Temperatures regularly drop to 15°F and lower, so heating solutions are essential for great quality of life. D&J Mechanical, LLC provides quality heat pump solutions to local residents and business owners in Brownville, LaGrange, and nearby communities.

Located in Piscataquis County, Brownville is a small town that includes the villages of Brownville, Knight's Landing, and Brownville Junction. This beautiful part of Maine is close to the 100-Mile Wilderness, which makes it a popular launching point for visitors and locals alike. LaGrange is a nearby town situated just over the border in Penobscot County and is associated with the great Appalachian Trail. Quality heating solutions are essential for anyone living or working in this region.
