Wi-Fi-based Smart Locks market

There are a number of reasons to choose a Wi-Fi-based smart lock for your home. The first is that you can remotely control the lock with your smartphone. This means that you can let people into your home without having to be there in person. You can also receive alerts when someone tries to break into your home. Another benefit of Wi-Fi-based smart locks is that they tend to be more reliable than traditional locks. This is because they use encryption to communicate with your smartphone, so hackers cannot intercept the signal.
