Wood Pellets market

Wood pellets are a type of compressed wood that is commonly used as fuel. Pellets are made from sawdust or other wood waste that is compressed into a small, dense form. Wood pellets are a renewable and efficient source of energy that can be used in place of fossil fuels. Pellets are typically made from hardwoods, such as oak or hickory, which results in a higher energy density than softwoods. The density of the pellets also makes them easy to store and transport. Pellets are commonly used in pellet stoves or boilers to heat homes and businesses.
