

Will Nevada's Vote be Split in Thirds?

The makeup of the Nevada voting pool doesn't bode well for either major political party.

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, USA, November 7, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- As Monica Potts from "FiveThirtyEight" reported when she analyzed the voters in Nevada, she obtained a quote which summed up what could begin an election night of chaos, "Nevada is an extremely divided state," Pappageorge said. "More than most folks understand — it's one-third Democrats, one-third Republican, one-third independent."

Unaffiliated/Independent candidate Barry Lindemann sees a path to responsible government due to a shift in voters' allegiance. "Nevada shed a lot of Democrat voters due to Joe Biden's administrative decisions. They changed to Independent or Unaffiliated. These would have been reliable votes for sitting Senator Catherine Cortez Masto, but their defection from the Democrats doesn't mean that they will automatically be driven into the Republican arms and candidate Adam Laxalt. Their votes mean more than party. I expect to win this with a plurality. She will get her hardcore Democrats and he will get his hardcore Republican votes. The rest of us who want sensibility, will vote for me."

Nevada U.S. Senate Candidate
Barry Lindemann

“

I expect to win this with a plurality. She will get her hardcore Democrats and he will get his hardcore Republican votes. The rest of us who want sensibility, will vote for me.”

Barry Lindemann

Barry Lindemann
Barry Lindemann Senate Seat
info@nvsenateseat.com
Visit us on social media:
Other

Las Vegas Review Journal Image

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/599894825>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2022 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.