The Business Research Company

forecasts the taxi and limousine services growth to reach a value of $95.5 billion in 2021 to $104.57 billion in 2022 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 9.5%. The Russia-Ukraine war disrupted the chances of global economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic, at least in the short term. The war between these two countries has led to economic sanctions on multiple countries, surge in commodity prices, and supply chain disruptions, effecting many markets across the globe. The taxi and limousine services market industry is expected to grow to $139.37 billion in 2026 at a CAGR of 7.4%.

Growth in the historic period resulted from technological development, strong economic growth in emerging markets, and growth in aging population, low oil prices, and surge pricing during peak hours.

Taxi And Limousine Services Market Trends

Global warming is a cause of concern across the world. Vehicles emissions is a major contributor to carbon footprint on our planet. With fossil fuels about to run out and an imminent carbon footprint reduction burden, electric cars have become the future of taxis. Given the growing demand for an eco-friendly future, electric taxis tend to be the logical step. The trend of electric cars is picking up and taxi companies are putting efforts to include electric cars into their fleet. Norway is the leading country with the highest number of electric vehicles per capita worldwide. Electric cars are on many countries' wish lists, which is why there is a political will for this to happen. Due to this, taxi company owners and taxi drivers may benefit from various incentives and schemes offered by their respective governments.
