ABOUT AUTOTECH: EUROPE

Automotive is undergoing a transformation. Not since the invention of the motor car has the industry witnessed such rapid evolution. For almost two decades, TU-Automotive Europe has grown to become the premier European automotive technology industry event. Now under a new name, AutoTech: Europe, we continue to be the meeting place that propels automotive technology business in Europe into the future.

The automotive industry is in flux and going through another unprecedented paradigm shift; electrification, decarbonisation, sustainability, new software technologies and new incumbents are all moving the goal posts, driving traditional automakers and the industry, to rethink their entire business strategy. Do you know what is next? What are you doing to ensure you are ahead of the game?

To compete and to stay relevant, the industry needs to transform the way they think, their future strategy and how they collaborate. AutoTech: Europe will focus on the future, the innovation, what can be and what is coming around the corner.
