

Take The Spa Home With LumiBloom's New Shower Steamers

Los Angeles-based brand expands wellness line with invigorating self care offerings

UNITED STATES, November 8, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- LumiBloom is thrilled to announce the launch of their Shower Steamers with CBD and non-CBD. This thoughtfully crafted trio of products adds to the brand's robust wellness offerings at home, perfect as the crisp cool of fall ushers in the winter chill.

Founded by elite athlete MacKenzie McClain Hill, this BIPOC-owned, CBD-powered beauty and wellness brand has at its core delivering beautiful, natural and healthy offerings that make women look and feel their best. Launching are three game-changers for at-home self care: the Lavender Steamer, the Eucalyptus Steamer and the Peppermint Steamer packed with essential oils. A sister to the bath bomb, the steamer bombs are designed to wet and place away from the heavy stream and then simply enjoy their healing and rejuvenating effects.

Fired up about the latest rollout, McClain Hill said, "First off, at LumiBloom, we believe that real beauty begins on the inside, that feeling good inspires confidence and that with confidence you can do anything." She continued, "Statistics show that over half the population, about fifty seven percent prefer showers over baths at just over thirty percent. Not everyone has a bath to soak in or the time for that matter. Our steamers provide the perfect solution."

LumiBloom's Shower Steamers push self care to the top of the agenda in an accessible way for everyone, leveling the playing field.
