Passion for Film, Truth & Giving Back

Modi's passion is to giveback, globally, through film and service. Prior to “Mission Kashi” he also produced, directed and wrote feature film “The Elevator” and the documentary called “VISION” to inspire a sense of community.

“Even if you can help just one person, and the person who gets help will help others, this will create a ‘CHAIN OF HELP’ and the whole world will become helpful to each other,” says Modi.

Modi has been giving back with the gift of sight by providing free medical care to those with glaucoma and other ailments. Each year for the last ten years, he's sponsored a free medical camp and cataract surgery in India (Jhunjhunu, Rajasthan). He flies there and meets the beneficiary patients personally. He also donates garments to charity in USA and other countries.

The next step in his journey is to open a school and provide children with free education. Helping students to unfold their immeasurable capabilities will bring benefits for generations to come.
