Key Trends In The Plastic Alternative Packaging Market

Companies in the plastic alternative packaging market are focusing on mono material packaging solutions to offer a more sustainable polyolefins-based packaging solution with greater circularity. The products are based on a single polymer increase recyclability as it doesn't need to be disassembled before being recycled.

These materials eliminate the need for material separation and risks of tainting a recycling stream, making recyclability easier to achieve. Companies are using new polypropylene (PP) solutions, which are viable monomaterial substitutes for multi-material plastics, offering a higher moisture barrier, thermal resistance and high transparency to develop mono material packaging.

Overview Of The Plastic Alternative Packaging Market

The plastic alternative packaging market consists of sales of plastic alternative packaging by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that are engaged in manufacturing plastic alternative packaging products. Plastic alternative packaging products are innovative, eco-friendly alternatives to traditional materials and include biodegradable packaging, packaging products made from recycled materials, and plant-based packaging. Other packaging alternatives such as bees wax and paper are not included in the report. Only goods and services traded between entities or sold to end consumers are included.
