After reconstruction of the hotel and improvement of more than 50 ha of land, there is going to be the first family resort opened by the end of 2023 in Iceland.

For those seeking a more peaceful time, the place will offer a panoramic lounge with a fireplace and a bar, a cinema with a great movie line-up, and a SPA featuring saunas, including a cryosauna, hot tubs, a gym, and yoga rooms. And for the little guests, there will be a playground, as well as a nursery room for the younger children and a unique graffiti wall for the teenagers.

The resort will be developed and realized, following sustainability principles and applying environment-friendly solutions. The developers together with the project management will seek to support the local communities throughout the construction and operation of the resort.

"It is an unprecedented project, and Legendary Hotels & Resorts sees a lot of potential in it. I would like to thank the local municipality for its cooperation during the development of this project. Both the local municipality and Iceland's entire tourism industry will greatly benefit from this project," says Dmitrijs Stals, the Founder and Chairman of the Board of Legendary Hotels & Resorts. He believes the resort will be just as attractive for foreign tourists as for the locals, with the latter making up to 30–40% of the total number of visitors. It is estimated that on average, a family will stay at the resort for 4 to 5 nights.
