

Flight Dental Expands to USA with Houston Texas Assembly Plant, Training Facility and Sales office

Flight Dental Systems is in the USA

HOUSTON, TEXAS, UNITED STATES,
November 11, 2022 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Flight Dental Systems is proud to announce their expansion into the USA with a new state of the art manufacturing facility in Houston, Texas. Flight Dental System's has been one of the fastest growing dental chair manufactures over the past several years and to better serve and support their US based dealers and customers, this new distribution center will be a welcomed addition. The new facility located at 3103 Farrell Road, Houston, Texas, will be assembling our top selling A6 Standard and A6 Radius as well as our highly rated A12 Radius Operatory Packages. In addition, it will also serve as a parts distribution, sales office, training facility and showroom for all of the United States.

In 2023, they will start shipping their dental chairs, delivery units, lights and stools from their new location in Houston. According to Joseph Hui, CEO at Flight Dental System's "These exciting changes will result in better shipping rates and faster deliveries to better serve Flight's current and new customers across the country". Ultimately, with a local USA facility and an added layer of customer support it will allow Flight to continue to meet the demands of today's dental professionals.

As Flight continues to grow, they will be expanding into other geographical regions to better support local sales and service. This Texas location will have a showroom that will be open for dealers to use and a new training facility to allow technicians to be trained on all of Flight's new products.

Flight Dental Systems' US National Sales Manager, Michael Hui welcomes you to contact him and set up a meeting to see the new facility and discuss how Flight Dental Systems can better serve you.
