Global crisis: wars, epidemics, threats of starvation, and mass extinction. Does such a reason look important enough? And this is just the tip of the deadly "iceberg" that is looming.

The last war of humanity is a war against climate that is killing both the poor and the rich everywhere in the world. It is already underway, taking the lives of millions of people, and destroying everything in its path...

For the participants of the open international online Forum Global Crisis. Our Survival is in Unity these reasons were enough to put contradictions aside and unite for the sake of informing the entire population of the Earth! Without sponsors, without advertising, without a hidden agenda.

We are being artificially divided and forced to fight each other. The life of a fragmented humanity is under imminent threat of destruction.

The Forum participants are aware of this, the Forum experts will confirm it with scientific facts, and eyewitnesses will share their own experiences. They voiced all the facts during the live broadcast, which took place on November 12, 2022, with simultaneous interpreting into 150 languages!
