EINPresswire.com/ -- According to the latest report by IMARC Group "Cyber Insurance Market: Global Industry Trends, Share, Size, Growth, Opportunity and Forecast 2022-2027", offers a comprehensive analysis of the industry, which comprises insights on the global cyber insurance market trends.

The global cyber insurance market size reached US$ 8.2 Billion in 2021. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 30.9 Billion by 2027, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 25.7% during 2022-2027.

Cyber insurance is a service that protects businesses against digital threats, such as malicious hacks, data breaches, malware, distributed denial-of-service (DDoS), malware, and ransomware. It also provides financial coverage for sensitive customer information, including credit cards, health records and social security, account, and driver's license numbers. It informs customers about cybersecurity incidents, recovers compromised data, restores their identities, and repairs damaged computer systems. Nowadays, various insurers worldwide are offering personalized plans depending on business requirements. These plans cover legal expenses and fees for physical damage and income loss.

Note: We are regularly tracking the direct effect of COVID-19 on the market, along with the indirect influence of associated industries. These observations will be integrated into the report.

Cyber Insurance Market

Market Trends:

The growing use of electronic devices for storing data is making organizations more vulnerable to cyber-attacks and data breaches. This is primarily influencing the demand for cyber insurance to recover the costs, resume core operations, and stabilize the company. As it also helps the company safeguard themselves against infringement of networks and sensitive data, cyber insurance is finding widespread application in small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). Apart from this, governing bodies of various countries are implementing stringent policies for improving user privacy rights and security. This is anticipated to further strengthen the market growth in the coming years.
