SHERIDAN, WYOMING, USA, November 14, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ --

According to the global compression stockings market report by IMARC Group, the market reached a value of US$ 1.45 Billion in 2021, and it is projected to reach a value of US$ 2.03 Billion by 2027, exhibiting a CAGR of 5.60% during 2022-2027.

Compression stockings refer to specialized hosiery that applies gentle pressure over the ankles and calves to improve blood flow, inhibit the formation of blood clots, reduce pain, etc. They assist in enhancing lower extremity symptoms associated with venous insufficiency during pregnancy. These stockings can be used as a non-pharmacological treatment option for individuals with orthostatic hypotension (OH). Some of the commonly utilized compression stockings include graduated compression stockings (GCS), anti-embolism stockings, non-medical support hosiery, etc. In line with this, they help in preventing edema, lymphedema, phlebitis, spider and varicose veins, deep vein thrombosis (DVT), etc.

Compression Stockings Market Trends and Drivers:

The growing incidences of chronic venous diseases (CVDs) that require extensive treatment and hospitalization are among the key factors stimulating the compression stockings market. Furthermore, the rising prevalence of obesity, on account of sedentary lifestyles, is also positively influencing the global market.

Apart from this, the widespread adoption of compression stockings in the treatment of venous leg ulcers (VLU), as it results in ulcer healing, reduction of pain, prevention of recurrence, etc., is acting as another significant growth-inducing factor. Moreover, the escalating demand for these stockings to aid narrow veins, restore valve competence, minimize ambulatory venous pressure, reduce venous reflux (VR), etc., is propelling the market growth.

Besides this, the increasing focus on aggressive promotional activities by leading manufacturers for advertising compression stockings to runners, triathletes, and other endurance athletes is further augmenting the global market. Additionally, the expanding geriatric population and the elevating investments in the sports industry are expected to fuel the compression stockings market over the forecasted period.
