

Perlite Market to Record Steadfast Evolution Through 2021-2028 By Emergen Research

The increasing demand for good quality perlite in the building & construction industry is driving global perlite market growth.

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA, November 14, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The global perlite market size is expected to reach USD

2.58 Billion by 2028 and register a steady CAGR over the forecast period, according to latest analysis by Emergen Research. Steady growth of the market can be attributed to the increasing demand for good quality perlite in the construction & building industry. The acoustic properties and light weight of expanded perlite are increasing its adoption in the construction and manufacturing industries. Expanded perlite is increasingly utilized in insulation, light weight plasters and mortars, ceiling tiles, and as filter aids. The mineral also reduces noise transmission, enhances fire resistance, and resists rotting, termites, and vermin, in addition to the thermal insulation. High insulating qualities, versatility, and light weight of expanded perlite made it an essential part of the construction industry for loose fill insulation and light weight insulating concrete. Expanded perlite is the ideal construction aggregates filler for masonry fill insulation, floor systems, and roof decks.

Growing trend of green building is supporting the growth of perlite market. Increasing need for more human habitation with limited resources is driving the demand for green building solutions. Perlite is a natural fit for green building initiatives and certifications. Ability of perlite to lighten denser materials like concrete and soil and the durability of the mineral is driving its adoption in green building solutions. Green roofs made with perlite help manage stormwater, reduce heat island effect, and restore habitat. Moreover, perlite is an excellent insulator and has a neutral pH value.
