Customized Knife Engraving Promo Details:

□ Upon purchasing any knife with no minimum spend, the knife purchased can be engraved with a name in Chinese characters (Kanji) or in Japanese syllabary (Katakana) for free. If you don't know how to write Kanji or Katakana, inform the company what you wish to engrave, and it will be translated for you.

□ Pick up several knives with priorities. If your selected knife is out of stock in Japan, the knife will have to be produced from scratch. It might take months because all processes are done manually.

□ The original cost of engraving is $30.00, and the shipping cost from Japan to the US is $30.00. Shipping cost varies per country. For this promo, spend zero dollars rather than sixty or more.

□ Orders of customized knives are not yet available on the website. This is how you can place an order.

"We see that the holiday season is fast approaching. This promo is for people who want to have their knives personalized by engraving their names or anything meaningful to them. Also, for those looking for personalized gifts for their loved ones," Toshi Sekiya, owner of Syosaku-Japan said. "Our main goal for this promo is saving while spending. We want to give something to the giver; may they be a giver to themselves or a giver to others."
