One satisfied client says, "Reliable, fair priced and extremely professional roofing company!"

The company has been serving the Greater Auckland Area for more than 15 years and are confident to call itself an industry expert. The team at Delta Roofing can tackle all sorts of roofing repairs, regardless of the roof material. They have the knowledge and materials to perform repairs and replacements on metal, concrete, asphalt shingle and tile roofs in Auckland.

Customers can contact Delta Roofing for minor repairs, like a single shingle or tile replacement, but can also get quotes for much larger projects. Delta Roofing replaces entire roofs, whether for quality improvement or for aesthetic purposes. Many homeowners want to update their roofing tiles to something more modern after more than a decade.

New Zealand law requires homes to be built with roof durability of at least 15 years. Homeowners who notice other homes in the area requiring new roofing or significant updates after this period may want to consider replacing or repairing their tiles or shingles to ensure the continued protection of their homes.

This New Zealand law is the reason that all materials used in a Delta Roofing project come with a minimum warranty of 15 years. Homeowners gain peace of mind for the long term when they invest in their properties by hiring knowledgeable professionals with more than a decade of experience working in Auckland. Any roof replacements performed by Delta Roofing come with a 5-year workmanship warranty as well.

Delta Roofing has risen to the top of the roofing industry in New Zealand with unparalleled expertise and customer service. Clients in Auckland can expect personalized service from the small and diligent team at Delta Roofing. The company strives to help clients save money wherever possible, always keeping the customers' best interests at the forefront.

The benefit of hiring a small roofing company in Auckland, like Delta Roofing, is the ability to communicate directly with the individual in charge of each project. When homeowners hire Delta Roofing, they can talk to the head of the project as needed for updates, information and assurance that everything is proceeding in accordance with their budget. The small-town feel of this service enables clients to choose solutions for their homes that best fit their needs.

Delta Roofing complies with New Zealand health and safety regulations in everything they do, so customers can feel confident that their homes are up to code after service is completed. The warranty backing the work completed also acts as a reassurance to customers that the job is done correctly and lasts for the long term. Delta Roofing is fully insured by Crombie Lockwood.

Whether they need a metal tile roof replacement, asbestos roof replacement, concrete tile repainting or other services, Delta Roofing is Auckland's first choice. They can be contacted by email at david@deltaroofting.co.nz or prospective customers can request a quote online via their
