

Black Friday Offer from United Thinkers

United Thinkers offers discounts and free consultations to all businesses that want to improve their payment technologies and customer experience in 2022

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, US, November 15, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New York, NY – (November 7, 2022): United Thinkers, a New-York based commercial open-source Payment Management Software provider, introduces a new Black Friday Offer for companies that want to improve their payment technology and processing experience of their merchants. These companies are invited to learn firsthand how UniPay Gateway payment technology can help them achieve this goal.

The benefits of the Black Friday Offer are as follows. Every prospective client is welcome to request a free consultation from United Thinkers' payment experts. Free consultation means that United Thinkers will conduct an audit of the prospective customer's existing payment system and suggest solutions for its potential optimization and/or restructuring based on UniPay Gateway technology. If necessary, United Thinkers' development team can build the customer's whole payment system from scratch. If you are already on the way to implementation of UniPay Gateway white-label payment technology, then 1st processor integration will be free for you. Finally, existing lead users that decide to purchase the source code license before December 31 will get a 20% discount.

"Having worked in the industry for quite a time now, we have gained rich experience helping various categories of businesses improve their payment ecosystems. The current offer is a rare opportunity when you can use our expertise to develop a preliminary plan of action, especially if you experience difficulties when formulating it" says United Thinkers president, Eugene Kipnis. "As part of our Black Friday Offer, through a series of free phone calls we'll discuss the needs of your existing payment ecosystem and see, which improvements and optimizations can be made thanks to our open-source white label payment technology UniPay Gateway. Then, we'll collaboratively work on a plan that you could implement in the following year, 2023, potentially, taking advantage of our limited-time 20% discount on the source code license."

United Thinkers Black Friday Offer is available November 14 through December 31, 2022. Inquire now and learn how UniPay Gateway technology can transform and improve your business.
