Proactive MD, who serves over 35,000 lives in Indiana, reinforced its commitment to providing high-quality care while driving down costs for the state of Indiana, which ranks among the highest cost of healthcare in the country.

“We are thrilled to host our first annual client summit,” said Proactive MD founder and CEO John Collier. “The summit gives us the invaluable opportunity to cultivate relationships within our communities to garner a healthier tomorrow. Our clients and partners in Indiana have helped us to grow our mission across the country and we promise to continue to strive for excellence in all that we do.”

The summit featured a variety of speakers and presentations from Proactive MD leadership and network partners, including Brown & Brown, A-S Medication Solutions, Edison Health, Hendricks Regional Health, and TridentCare, all with the shared commitment of improving healthcare in Indiana.

Summit co-sponsor Brown & Brown, the nation's fifth largest insurance brokerage and a long-term partner of Proactive MD, applauded Proactive MD for its high-quality care and commitment to patients.

"Proactive MD is more than just a health care provider," said Richard Sutton, senior vice president of Brown & Brown. "We share critical core values, beginning with foundational principle that the client comes first, and can always count on them to deliver exceptional service, efforts, and outcomes for our team and mutual clients."

Topics covered throughout the day included a Proactive MD cost-savings case study highlighting best practice of chronic care management, primary care trends, direct contracting, and a keynote speech from co-founder and executive director of RemedyLIVE, Clinton Faupel, who addressed one of Indiana's most significant growing health issues, mental health.

"Mental wellness has become a heightened issue across the nation and especially in Indiana, where cost of care is outpacing quality," said Faupel. "Stats show that the average delay between mental health symptom onset and treatment is 11 years, when primary care providers like Proactive MD can screen for early signs of mental illness, it can make all the difference in guiding patients toward a path to optimal mental health."
