I alone cannot change the world, but I can cast a stone across the waters to create many ripples.”

“I alone cannot change the world, but I can cast a stone across the waters to create many ripples.” – Mother Teresa.

This was the prime motive that saw the dawn of the greatest event in the history of Maldives, spearheaded by global marketing leader OmegaPro.

Community – The focal point of human experience

OmegaPro sees these events to promote its ideology – “Grow as One”

One aspect of the community-centric approach is to increase self-esteem and cultivate a sense of belonging & oneness among the community members. It enables people to share personal relatedness and support the perpetual growth of each other, ourselves and our environment.

Leadership – The crux of success

"Leaders instill in their people a hope for success and a belief in themselves. Positive leaders empower people to accomplish their goals."

As the company is breaking ceilings and scaling newer heights, having the right people with the right mindset and drive is a critical component, not just for the benefit of the organization but also for the ever-growing community's happiness and the business's overall culture.

OmegaPro believes that when building a business, a leader and their team set out on a journey together. Part of building a strong relationship with the people who work with you is knowing how their goals align with the organization. Through this event, OmegaPro transformed many followers into truly inspirational leaders to shape a better tomorrow for their respective communities.

In Maldives, OmegaPro, with the help of its official strategic coach Eric Worre, set the direction and goals to help people converge toward a common goal, and empower them to reach their full potential and stay motivated. Eric Worre even put forth strategies to push the horizon and seek innovative ways to achieve unparalleled success.

The other aspect of the community-centred approach is to inculcate a sense of ownership in people. OmegaPro is a firm believer in the fact that one must feel personally and positively impacted by the success of the mission.

An ode to community

“Remember to celebrate milestones as you prepare for the road ahead.” - Nelson Mandela.
