We feel that dental care should be accessible to all, whether or not they have health insurance or dental coverage.”

Dr. Katie Alger

A dental implant is placed into the patient’s jaw via a titanium screw. Once healed, a custom crown is placed on top of the screw, giving the implant a natural look and feel. While the entire procedure can take several months, patients say the wait is worth it. They can eat, speak, and smile again without pain or embarrassment.

At DICE Dental, dental implants start at only $750.

“We feel that dental care should be accessible to all, whether or not they have health insurance or dental coverage,” says Dr. Katie Alger, dentist in Springfield.
