CUDDLY began because of a gap that existed in animal welfare. Unfortunately, we’ve seen that need grow in recent months, and rescued animals need us now more than ever”

CEO & Founder John J. Hussey

“CUDDLY began because of a gap that existed in animal welfare” says CUDDLY CEO & Founder John J. Hussey. “Unfortunately, we’ve seen that need grow in recent months, and rescued animals need us now more than ever.”

The achievement is based on the percentage of growth for the fiscal year of 2018 to 2021. This honor is a sign that even when the world faces some of its most troubled times in history, humanity will still choose to speak out for those in need.

CUDDLY has continued to expand its offering by focusing on pet pantries around the country. This program is an effort to keep loved animals in homes and make animal shelters the best resource possible for their communities.
