the 3 billion gamers worldwide yet to dive into blockchain games, Imperium Empires is confident that its well-designed graphics, gameplay, and guild systems will expand the reach of blockchain games and onboard non-crypto native gamers into the Imperium metaverse.

This new addition is located on the Northeast of the map, right below the Graveyard. The Zombie house is a good addition that helps the users to earn $BABA through the challenges. Metaverser has made its play-to-earn method very beneficial for its users as they can continually earn $BABA whilst playing for free. Essentially, compared to other play-to-earn games, none of them has been more profitable for its users than Metaverser.

What makes Metaverser stand out

Despite the other well-known Metaverses such as Sandbox, Decentraland, Axie Infinity, etc. In the past month, Metaverser has proven that active users earned an estimated $500 to $1,000 last month by its play-to-earn, free-to-play method. Additionally, it has a great community that stands behind Metaverser to make it the best Metaverse available to everyone. It's the very first metaverse that is multi-platform and soon-to-be multi-chain, which is a very big objective compared to its rivals.

How to play

The Zombie House lobby is where the users will gather around, get ammunition and get ready to slay the zombies. It's the only safe area inside the zombie house to submit your final score and restock.

Once the challenge starts, zombies will start coming at you and you must kill them in order to gain XP and earn $BABA per kill. Essentially, for each zombie killed, you will receive 2 $BABA and 2 XP. Bare in mind that you will have a certain HealthPoint, and once you run out, you will be sent back to the lobby.

Once your ammo is out, you must return to the lobby and submit your kill score in order to receive your $BABA and XP.

Playtime

Each user is only allowed to enter the lobby to restock ammo and submit their kill score 10 times per 24 hours. You must come to the lobby in order to submit your score, if you manage not to make it on time in the lobby and submit it, then your score will go back to 0.
