“While some other players in the mobility area have been struggling to make their offerings work, the judges felt that Stellantis remains in pursuit of the vision of urban shared mobility becoming the dominant business model in years to come. The judges also felt the automaker displayed its unwavering resolve to accelerate the reach of shared mobility through its continued commitment to platforms including Free2move and SHARE NOW.” Judge, European Informa Tech Automotive Awards 2022.

“We are delighted to be the recipient of the European Mobility Service Provider of the Year award! This first prize goes to the great teams of Free2move & SHARE NOW! We will continue to monitor emerging market trends and new customer needs to continuously offer the best mobility services.” Brigitte Courtehoux, CEO Free2move.

"I am excited that Free2move and SHARE NOW were awarded the European Mobility Service Provider of the Year. I want to thank the teams who are working hard each and every day to serve our customers with the best possible experience. And I am proud of our outstanding products that help people across the world to switch from ownership to usage," says Olivier Reppert, CEO SHARE NOW.

European Informa Tech Automotive Awards
For almost two decades, TU-Automotive has dominated as the premier European automotive technology industry event. Formerly known as TU-Automotive Europe, the show rebranded to AutoTech: Europe in 2022, and continues to be the meeting place that propels automotive technology business in Europe into the future. Awards are carefully selected to recognize game changers in the automobile and mobility industries.

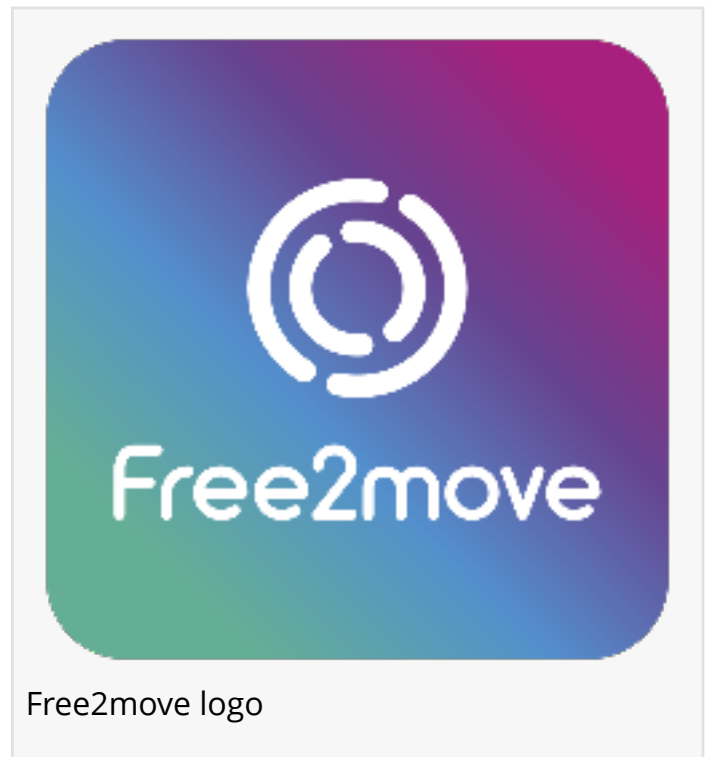

Free2move

The recent world crises have had a strong impact on the automobile industry. And Free2move has stepped in to propose alternative solutions for the international mobility market. Free2move understands time is precious and moving customers is a great responsibility. With that in mind, they have designed an innovative mobility service model that adapts to their dynamic customer needs, offering new vehicle access options.

Free2move offers a complete mobility ecosystem for private and business customers, available in a single app, making vehicles available by the minute, by the day, by the month with a subscription option. They offer services for professional customers with their: Vehicle as a Service; fleet management solutions; corporate carsharing and rental solutions. Free2move is building the future of mobility with flexible, innovative solutions that prioritize service while maintaining profitability and sustainability.

This year, the company has joined forces with SHARE NOW, the pioneer and market leader in free-floating car-sharing. Together the groups serve 6 million customers with flexible car usage services in Europe and North America. Both companies see the world evolving from ownership to usage. And with their combined strengths, Free2move and SHARE NOW will achieve goals in line with the Stellantis Dare Forward 2030 plan, which sees Free2move as their key mobility player in Europe and in the United States of America.

Free2move and SHARE NOW are joining all their efforts to accelerate the future of mobility together!
