Both w3 Awards were Silver Winners. One was in the General Websites-Website Redesign category for their redesign of the HC Companies website. The other was in the General Websites-Manufacturing category for the new Laser Tech website. The Davey Award was also a Silver Winner in the General-Government category for their redesign of the Douglas County, Colorado website.

The w3 Awards honor excellence throughout the marketing industry. Their awards recognize a wide range of contributions, including websites, videos, marketing, mobile sites and apps, podcasts and social media. The w3 is the first major web competition that levels the playing field for smaller agencies, providing smaller firms with an equal chance to achieve recognition among their peers in Fortune 500 companies and large international agencies.

The International Davey Awards are the largest and most prestigious awards competition devoted exclusively to the work produced by smaller creative agencies. It provides these smaller agencies an opportunity to receive the recognition they deserve in an environment where many of the largest firms receive the vast majority of adulation for their work.
