Reportedly, Riverside Tree Service has also been increasing its employees' salaries yearly. According to the CEO, this is what has helped the company to maintain its position as the best tree care company in Riverside and its suburbs.

"Riverside Tree Service management believes that a happy employee translates to a happy client and the vice versa is also true," said the CEO. "For this reason, Riverside Tree Service has been motivating its employees by increasing their salaries yearly and heavily gifting the most hardworking employees. This has paid back heavily as Riverside Tree Service has remained the best-known tree care company in Riverside and the entire neighborhood for years." The reporters decided to interview one of the employees to understand better what has made them stand with Riverside Tree Service for all that long and this is what David said.

"Working with Riverside Tree Service has been the best opportunity for all the employees here to grow their careers," said David. "The company has always given its employees a good working environment. It also assigns each employee what he/she is best in and enjoys doing. This, together with good leadership that pays attention to employees' grievances, has made all the employees try their best to maintain a good name for Riverside Tree Service outside." The CEO also noted that as a way of appreciating Riverside Tree Service clients, the company had decided to reduce the service charges to affordable rates. He added that the company will now be offering all tree care services.

"Riverside Tree Service can't appreciate the employees and leave the bosses 'clients' outside," noted the CEO. "For this reason, Riverside Tree Service has decided to reduce the service charges to show gratitude to its clients. Also, the company has decided to start offering all the tree care services unlike earlier when it didn't offer tree transplantation and stump removal services. With these improvements, the homeowners in Riverside and its outskirts should overload Riverside Tree Service with all tree care requests and get a chance to receive the best for their trees."
