American Tortoise Rescue (ATR) is an international 501c3 nonprofit (EIN 93-1219374) founded in 1990 to provide for the protection of all species of tortoise and turtle. We offer a permanent sanctuary to abandoned and injured turtles and tortoises too ill or deformed to be rehomed. ATR has saved and rehomed more than 4,000 turtles and tortoises since it was founded. Take a tour here: <http://bit.ly/1buBtcD>.

"Turtles are not warm and fuzzy, so they are way down on the list for donations", Tellem said. "We are faced with high costs such as exotic veterinary bills, food and housing, especially after the devastating Woolsey fire. Though the turtles are safe, much of the sanctuary was damaged." To make a donation or for more information, visit <https://www.tortoise.com/give> or email info@tortoise.com.

In the year 2000, American Tortoise Rescue launched World Turtle Day®, celebrated every year on May 23rd. Its purpose is to educate the world's peoples globally about why saving turtles and tortoises from extinction is critical. This observance is now "shellebrated" in virtually every country around the globe and trends at the top of both twitter and Facebook. More information is at www.worldturtleday.org.
