/EINPresswire.com/ --

□ The Disinfectant Robot market was valued at US$ 701.2 Mn in 2021 and is forecast to reach a value of US$ 5,742.2 Mn, with Growing at a CAGR Value of 35.0% between 2022 and 2028. A Disinfectant Robot is a mobile robot that uses UV-C rays to eliminate germs. It can disinfect surfaces up to 360 degrees and can navigate confined spaces without human intervention. This robot can also be controlled through a smartphone application or autonomous software. It can help schools, corporations, medical facilities, and other organizations eliminate viruses that cause illnesses.

The market for Disinfectant Robots is witnessing strong growth and this can be attributed to increased awareness regarding the impact of healthcare-associated infections and increasing demand for effective hospital cleanliness.

Disinfection robots are machines that are programmed to perform the task of disinfection in some degree of autonomy. They have the capability to disinfect a whole room in a short period of time, using either ultraviolet light or spraying a chemical disinfectant. The disinfection robots have evolved out of the need to prevent and reduce the spread of healthcare-associated infections (HAIs). Further, the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic has further boosted the demand for disinfection robots due to their ability to autonomously disinfect the surfaces efficiently without incurring additional labor costs.
