

Apollo Investment Allows Investing In NDIS-Approved SDA Housing

SOUTHBANK, VIC, AUSTRALIA,
November 26, 2022 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Australian financial services company, Apollo, has announced that it will now allow investors to put their money into NDIS-approved SDA housing. This is a big win for the disability community, as it will provide more funding and support for Special Needs Housing. Apollo is one of the first investment firms to offer this type of investment opportunity, and it is hoped that others will follow suit.

This is great news for those who have been seeking to invest in SDA housing, as it provides a new avenue to do so. Apollo's announcement comes at a time when there is an increased focus on SDA housing, as the NDIS continues to roll out across Australia. It is hoped that this move by Apollo will help to increase the availability of SDA housing and make it more affordable for those who need it.

The NDIS is one of the most important investments we can make in our country's future”

Yannick Leko

This is newsworthy because it means that people who want to invest in SDA housing can do so without having to go through the NDIS themselves. Apollo is one of the largest investment firms in Australia, and this move could make SDA housing more accessible and affordable for people with disabilities.

This is a significant development as it provides investors with an opportunity to support the NDIS and invest in much-needed housing for people with disabilities. Apollo has a strong track record of delivering quality SDA housing developments, and this new initiative will allow even more people to access this type of accommodation.
