Vacuum Insulation Market Trends

Technological advancements are a key trend gaining popularity in the vacuum insulation market.

Major companies operating in vacuum insulation are developing new products with innovative technologies to strengthen their position in the market. For instance, in 2021, Panasonic Corporation, a Japan-based company operating in vacuum insulation, launched its innovative vacuum insulating product known as the VIXELL Vacuum Insulated Cooking Box, which uses contactless power supply technology to enable the user to determine insulation performance.

Vacuum Insulation Market Overview

The vacuum insulation market consists of sales of vacuum insulation products by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that are used to provide better insulation performance than conventional insulation materials and to transport heat-sensitive products in extreme conditions and high temperatures. Vacuum insulation refers to a flat element consisting of an open porous core material that withstands the external load caused by atmospheric pressure and a gas-tight envelope to maintain the required vacuum quality.
