Battery Separators Market Trends

Product innovations have emerged as the new trend gaining popularity in the battery separator market. Major companies operating in the battery separator market are focused on developing innovative products with advanced technologies to sustain their position in the battery separator market. For instance, in November 2020, Toray Industries, a Japan-based material manufacturer, developed a non-porous separator for lithium-ion batteries by improving the safety of lithium metal anode batteries, which could significantly boost capacity, especially in wearable electronic gadgets, drones, and electric cars. This was done by regulating the spaces between molecular chains and the affinity for lithium ions by utilising the high heat resistance aramid polymer molecular design technologies.
