Key Trends In The Hospice Care Market

New technology penetration is the key trend in the hospice care market. Major companies operating in the market are introducing new technological innovations such as using new machine learning tools to identify patients who need their services earlier in their illness and ensure that patients receive the appropriate level of home care as their illness progresses. For instance, in February 2022, Amedisys Inc., a US-based hospice provider, adopted Medalogix's

Muse, which enables better end-of-life care for patients by using machine learning to predict patient transitions. Amedisys In focuses on the last seven days of patient transition through this enterprise deployment. In addition to identifying more patients who require greater levels of care, Muse also better prepares the care team to take action.
