LEGO licensed theme sets consist of some of the most popular franchises from TV, film and video games. LEGO sets featuring Harry Potter, Star Wars, Mario, Minecraft, Marvel and more are sought after by their respective fans, though LEGO offers their own classic collections such as holiday, space and vehicle sets. For younger children, the Duplo line contains bricks twice the size of standard ones, making them easier to play with. Meanwhile, the LEGO Technic line is a definite contrast, as it features more intricate pieces that can form complex machinery.
