market to reach a value of $100.83 billion in 2022 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.6%. The Russia-Ukraine war disrupted the chances of global economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic, at least in the short term. The war between these two countries has led to economic sanctions on multiple countries, surge in commodity prices, and supply chain disruptions, effecting many markets across the globe. The minivan market is expected to grow to $114.52 billion in 2026 at a CAGR of 3.2%.

The rising demand for electric vehicles is expected to propel the growth of the minivans market going forward.

Minivans Market Trends

Technological advancements are the key trends gaining traction in the minivans market. Major players in the minivans sector are focusing on advanced technologies to lead the market. For instance, in January 2022, Toyota launched new fourth-generation Noah and Voxy minivans in Japan. These are equipped with advanced driving support technologies such as advanced park

(with remote function) and advanced drive (support during traffic congestion). They are equipped with Toyota Safety Sense, the active safety package with advanced functionality.

Minivans Market Overview

The minivan market consists of sales of minivans by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that are used for carrying passengers and transporting goods. Minivans are larger cars with the capacity to carry more passengers as compared to regular cars. In minivans, rear seats can be removed to convert minivans into goods carriers or delivery vehicles. Minivans have a higher roof, high H-point seating for passengers, and sliding doors for fewer passengers or carrying goods.
