

Shop with Local Artisans at 390 Social Holiday Market in Brooklyn

It will be the 2nd edition of the popular format featuring a rotating lineup of local vendors, after its success in 2021.

NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, November 29, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The second annual 390 Social Holiday market is back, co-produced with Flaco Coquito, at Park Slope, Brooklyn. The 390 Social Holiday Market features a rotating lineup of local vendors with unique offerings. On December 4, 17 & 18, the 390 Social Holiday Market will be open from 10 am-4 pm, and December 14th is our night market from 5 pm-10 pm.

The market will feature an array of chefs, artists, artisans, clothing and jewelry designers. The Holiday season is the perfect time to support local and small businesses, which is the market's mission statement.

The Holiday Market is produced by a group of small businesses, BIPOC and female-led. Owners of 390 Social, Parkslope Restaurants Chela and Bar Crudo; The Mana Hospitality group and Cynthia Sepulveda, founder of Flaco Coquito partnered in 2021 and co-founded the market at 390 Social.

"Let's shop locally. We have put together an amazing lineup of vendors to display their craftsmanship, come taste Coquito while you shop and support local vendors," says Cynthia Sepulveda
