is honored to be named one of four local non-profit organizations to receive a $50,000 donation from the San Bernardino-based San Manuel

Band of Mission Indians. For nearly 20 years, Miracles has brought hope to parents struggling to care for a critically-ill child through programs that offer financial and mental health stability during times of crisis. Thanks to this generous donation, the female-founded organization will be able to extend $6K in additional benefits to eight families in the Riverside and San Bernardino areas.

Many of our member families are traveling hundreds of miles to get medical assistance, so this money will go a long way toward providing resources for gas, essential bills, and much more.”

“We are so grateful for this recent funding from the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians,” shares Miracles Co-Founder/CEO Autumn Strier. “Many of our member families are traveling hundreds of miles to get medical assistance, so this money will go a long way toward providing resources for gas, essential bills, and much more.”

San Manuel is committed to providing their Tribe and community a better quality of life, donating funds annually to deserving organizations that meet their criteria. Strier was presented with the donation check by Tribal Business Committee Secretary Audrey Martinez at this year’s San Manuel-hosted golf tournament at the Yaamava’ Resort & Casino at San Manuel. The event raised over $400k, which were distributed to four Tribal and four local nonprofits. Miracles is extremely thankful to be one of these beneficiaries, in compliance with San Manuel's four pillars of giving.
