The only thing more important than knowing where your fit in your organization's strategic plan is knowing where they fit into yours.”

Relevant and open to all professionals yet developed with women and people of color in mind, the 5-day program is designed to help participants design immediate strategies to reach their professional goals in 2023. Each daily session from December 12th - 16th is only thirty minutes long and covers critical themes including:

- Engaging key leaders to ensure accomplishments receive recognition
- Navigating difficult situations with confidence and clarity
- Making daily strategic decisions to quickly recover from setbacks

- Understanding where to invest time and effort to speed up promotions
- Speaking up with power and pride, despite who's in the room

The former management consultant turned executive coach comments that "Even in 2022, women earn only 83 cents on the dollar as compared to men, and women of color earn as little as 49 cents for every dollar a white man makes." Bribiesca-Hedin believes that the only way to combat this disparity is through the empowerment and advancement of leaders of every identity.

"It is not often that I encounter a workshop on leadership where I gain new insights that immediately shift my way of thinking and behavior," said one CEO who attended an earlier 2022 session. "Asia is exceptional in her content and delivery."
