Curlee Cool's Universe app will appeal to people of all races, nationalities and faiths with a message of unity and of love for our environment, health, social wellness, and wellbeing,”

Sharon M Hayes

In Curlee Cool's Universe, children and their parents/guardians can tap into their imagination while playing games, reading books, singing along with music, and learning by positive reinforcements and inspirational messaging designed to build confidence and make them feel good about themselves and the world around them.

"We designed the Curlee Cool's Universe app to appeal to people of all races, nationalities and faiths with a message of unity and of love for our environment, health, social wellness, and wellbeing," says Hayes. "We hope children and parents alike will learn that bonding through creativity and imagination is fun and rewarding."

With Curlee Cool's interactive stories, children can follow along with onscreen text and voiced narration. Words will highlight as they read, helping children to easily identify and learn new words. Easy tap control allows readers to jump between their favorite pages and bring sparkling characters or objects to life with animation and sound.

The new app is based on a lighthearted line of children's storybooks written by Hayes and is filled with whimsical characters inspired by her childhood antics and imagination. The company is actively seeking a book publisher for the Curlee Cool line of books.

Hayes joined forces with her business partner and legal advisor Bob Dwornick in September 2019 to form Curlee Cool Entertainment, LLC. Hayes writes the stories and designs the characters, then collaborates on the production of the app with Graphite Lab, a highly qualified digital and animation studio, whose team members have worked for clients such as Cartoon Network, Nickelodeon, Mattel, Hasbro, Warner Brothers, Disney, Activision, and more.

People can download the Curlee Cool's Universe app from the App Store and enjoy book one, and game one for free, with each additional book and game available to purchase. For more information visit curleecool.com. Available on all mobile devices.
