

Prodly Accelerates Kaptio Travel Deployments for Rocky Mountaineer

PALO ALTO, CA, UNITED STATES, December 6, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Prodly, the next-gen DevOps platform in Salesforce, is proud to announce that Rocky Mountaineer has selected Prodly DevOps to enhance business agility.

Rocky Mountaineer, the leading luxury scenic train travel operator in North America, quotes, sells, and manages multi-day rail journey bookings on the Kaptio Travel Platform, which is built on Salesforce. The business was looking for an automation solution to accelerate both sandbox seeding and the deployment of changes to intricate data about products, suppliers, and services in its CRM. Without automation, these tasks required a significant amount of time and attention to detail.

We tried several other solutions for sandbox seeding and configuration data deployments, but they didn't deliver on their promise and caused mounting technical debt."
