What are the major market drivers in the united states diaper market?

The growth of the US diaper market is primarily being driven by rising awareness of personal hygiene. The escalating product demand can also be attributed to their benefits, such as convenience and low risk of skin damage. Additionally, the rising prevalence of obesity, urinary incontinence, and cognitive impairment, especially amongst the geriatric population, is acting as another growth-inducing factor. Furthermore, key players are introducing innovative product variants, such as biodegradable diapers with skin-friendly compounds, which is creating a positive outlook for the market across the country.
