“We are very excited to launch MEGAN's Healing Massage and Body Oil,” said John Ritchie President of Desert Botanicals. “Our first skin care and massage product was developed in close collaboration with Megan Bjorkman, LMT to create a premium massage oil to offer unbeatable performance enabled by leveraging the beneficial properties of a unique combination of extraordinary natural ingredients. Moreover, it's exciting to add another product developed with local experts in hair, massage, and skin treatment here in Arizona. It is something we seek to continue to do as our business grows.”

Megan Bjorkman continued, “Ever since I've been a licensed massage therapist, I've dreamed of having a product line based on my inspiration and that creates the perfect consumer and customer experience. I love the end result; I not only use it on my clients but also every day for moisturizing and restoring my skin. Ashwagandha reduces stress and relaxes, Arnica speeds up recovery time while absorbing quickly in the skin, and Jojoba and Prickly Pear's phytonutritive healing properties are well established. Their combination creates a topical skin oil that cannot be beat."

On working with Desert Botanicals to create MEGAN'S Healing Massage and Body Oil, Megan added, "working and collaborating with Desert Botanicals has been such a pleasure. They were very respectful of my vision for the product while adding their knowledge of desert succulents and technical know-how to create a product everyone will love. I also appreciate they are committed to avoiding harsh chemicals in their formulations."
