-- Automotive Insurance Market Outlook 2030

Auto insurance provides customers with financial protection against property damage caused by traffic accidents and vehicle theft. It also covers expenses related to injury, death, or property damage caused by the insured vehicle owner to another driver, vehicle, or property such as fences, buildings, and utility poles. Auto insurance requirements vary from state to state, but many jurisdictions require liability insurance for personal injury and property damage before using or holding the vehicle on public roads. The automotive insurance market has high growth potential due to the increasing number of traffic accidents in most countries around the world.
