The escalator and moving walkway market consists of sales of escalators and moving walkways by entities (manufacturers, sole traders, and partnerships) that are used as solutions for the uninterrupted flow of people throughout buildings. Escalators and moving walkways refer to a moving staircase that carries people between floors of a building. This helps to carry passengers and freight up and down. These are commonly used in locations for public transport as well as malls. Moving walkways are mostly used in airports where they help travelers with luggage travel a great distance between several sub-terminals in the airport.
