

Nigerian Multi-billion Property Giant, Precious Okechukwu, Seeks Collaboration On Housing Development in Nigeria

LAGOS, NIGERIA, December 8, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- In a concerted effort to address the housing deficit in Nigeria and across the African continent, Hav'i-Lah Real Estate Worldwide, a female-led, rapidly growing real estate company, is delighted to announce the commencement of its five projects gearing to address the bulging demand for luxurious and affordable housing in Nigeria.

The developer, a 27-year-old entrepreneur who spoke to Pleasures Magazine said real estate sector of the economy remains one that requires huge capital investment, noting that they remain money spinners as a result of the turnover on investment within the shortest possible time. She said, "Because of this, we are seeking partnerships, investors, and clients to invest with us as there's much profit to be made in this zone or Africa, especially through our current project in Banana Island selling at $450,000 and $550,000 with an initial deposit of $200,000. This comes in with a guaranteed ROI of 300% in 2 years from its current Naira market value.

She said the period favours investors outside Africa and Diasporas to buy and invest in real estate assets as the country's currency valuation which is currently slightly over N800 per dollar (parallel market rate) works in profits for them.

These projects include The Isabella, La Madre, Hav'i-lah Court 1, Hav'i-lah Court 2, and Hav'i-lah Court 3.
