

U.S. Physical Therapy Virtual and Telerehabilitation Services Market Lead to Remain Unchallenged throughout 2028.

Telerehabilitation is the delivery of rehabilitation services over telecommunication networks and the internet.

BURLINGAME, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, December 8, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- U.S. Physical Therapy Virtual and Telerehabilitation Services Market Size Projections : The U.S. physical therapy virtual and telerehabilitation services market is estimated to be valued at US$ 142.2 million in 2021 and expected to exhibit a CAGR of 13.1% during the forecast period (2022-2028).

In health systems all throughout the world, telerehabilitation is being used more frequently as a means of reaching patients in far-flung locations and extending the reach of therapies like physical therapy. Physical therapists interact with patients in order to diagnose, treat, and recover from diseases. A subset of telehealth known as telerehabilitation involves a system that employs communications technology to manage or oversee remote rehabilitation. In order to communicate with patients and professionals who are stationed far away, tele-rehabilitation programmes use technology. Through audio or video chats, Tele-Physio-Therapy (TPT) enables patients to get physiotherapy in the convenience of their own homes. In its clinics, TPT provides a variety of recovery and rehabilitation programmes.

The expansion of the U.S. physical therapy virtual and telerehabilitation market is anticipated to be fueled by an increase in the number of launches of physical therapy telerehabilitation solutions by the major market players. For instance, Thera Inc., a business that uses virtual reality to deliver traditional therapy, just debuted TheraNow, an online platform that enables patients to communicate with physical therapists via teletherapy.
