In 2017, Global Watch Repair opened its doors to repair Quartz, Automatic, Manual and Antique watches. Working with luxury brands, he established relationships with major watch manufacturers and parts suppliers in order to restore family heirlooms and nostalgic timepieces. His clients count on him to use authentic materials applied to industry specifications. Giving the gift of restoring a watch is a personal way to respect the memories associated with the watch and create a keepsake.

For over the past 20 years, Igor has been honing his craft.

He has repaired watches from everyday wearables to high-end swiss watches. Some of his clients collect fine watches, while others bide their time to get their first, luxury brand timepiece. Buying gently restored, pre-owned watches has satisfied the collector and first-time buyer alike.

“My patrons are looking for ways to make their money go farther while still giving something thoughtful and special. Pre-owned watches have become a great answer because they are some of the most luxurious brands that they normally couldn’t afford,” says Igor.

To help clients offset the cost of travel and help those out of town, who otherwise couldn’t utilize his expertise, Global Watch Repair offers free estimates and free insured UPS drop off and delivery. For more information, visit GlobalWatchRep.com and start shopping for that special restored or pre-owned timepiece today.
