You can choose from a variety of wall murals, including:

- Paint: Paint is the most popular choice for most people, and it's also the easiest to apply. The cost depends on its size and material, but there are no minimums.
- Wallpaper: This option gives you some customization options—you can select from thousands of artworks in the company's extensive catalog—and it looks great on any wall color or texture! It comes in three finishes: matte, semi-glossy, and glossy (or laminate). Prices vary depending on size, material, and finish; however, all orders must be completed before delivery takes place, so keep that in mind when deciding what type might work best for your space.

Bayou Graphics is excited about this new offering and believes our customers will be thrilled.

The company's wall murals division offers a wide range of services, from small one-off jobs to larger projects that require multiple artists to work together to achieve the desired result.
