NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, December 14, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- According to SPER Market Research, The Market is predicted to grow most rapidly in emerging economies. Increased product acceptability in the sports apparel manufacturing industry is projected to positively impact market growth because of the product's lightweight and robust characteristics. The need for waterproof, breathable materials is increasing, which is good news for the sports apparel sector (WBT). The business is expected to benefit from increased interest in practical, stylish sportswear and clothes for weather protection, as well as from the popularity of outdoor activities.

Waterproof Breathable Textiles Market Overview:

- Forecast CAGR (2022-2030): 5.94%
- Forecast Market Size (2030): 3.60 billion

Supply chain disruptions brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic had an effect on the market for waterproof breathable textiles. During the epidemic, several factories that produced raw materials, particularly textiles and fabrics, were shut down. However, the launch of significant end-user sectors led to a subsequent, robust market resurgence. As soon as the COVID-19 pandemic hit, gyms and retailers altered their strategy to promote at-home workouts, assisting clients in adjusting to the new normal.
