As per The Business Research Company's "Car Pooling Global Market Report 2022", the car pooling market is predicted to reach a value of $8.33 billion in 2022 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 15.7%. The Russia-Ukraine war disrupted the chances of global economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic, at least in the short term. The war between these two countries has led to economic sanctions on multiple countries, a surge in commodity prices, and supply chain disruptions, affecting many markets across the globe. The carpooling market is expected to grow to $12.95 billion in 2026 at a CAGR of 11.7%. Government initiatives to minimise carbon emissions are likely to drive the carpooling market.

Key Trends In The Car Pooling Market

Automobile manufacturers are increasingly venturing into mobility services to cater to the growing demand for car-pooling services. For instance, major automobile manufacturers, namely BMW and Daimler, have merged their car-sharing ventures to expand geographically. Similarly, in February 2020, Tesla announced plans to launch a ride-sharing application. Automakers' investing in carpooling applications will contribute to the growth of the market.

Overview Of The Car Pooling Market

The carpooling market consists of sales of carpooling, which is also known as shared mobility. It is the most technologically advanced transportation system that enables users to book a short-distance ride as and when needed. The sales consist of revenues generated by establishments that are primarily engaged in the booking of the cars through online carpooling platforms and app-based carpooling.
