offerings are designed to provide the skills and training needed for a successful career in one of the fastest-growing industries in the United States.

“As an emerging industry that will provide good paying jobs in Massachusetts, the cannabis industry has the potential to uplift economic mobility for diverse communities around the Commonwealth,” said Dean of Workforce and Economic Development Kristen P. McKenna.

“Green Flower is honored to be partnering with Bunker Hill Community College to offer our three cannabis industry training courses and help students become highly qualified to work in cannabis retail, manufacturing, and agriculture environments,” says Daniel Kalef, Green Flower's Vice President of Higher Education. “As a leader in the Boston education community, their history and commitment to help working adults find and build new careers is second to none. We are excited to see BHCC expand to help the cannabis industry continue to grow and begin offering these courses to the public.”

In partnership with Green Flower, BHCC will offer three cannabis certificate programs: Advanced Cultivation Technician, Advanced Manufacturing Agent, and Advanced Dispensary Agent. Each program takes eight weeks to complete and is offered fully online. Students can register and begin courses at any time. Upon certificate completion, graduates will have access to Green Flower’s employer network. Courses cost $839 and are now open for enrollment.
